Fumigating Warehouse on Mail Dock.

Mauna Loa Arrives--R. P. Rithet With Merchandise--New Light Keeper. Capt. Cutler in Port Again.

There was "a hole in the wall," when Inspectors Reynolds and Charlack came to pass last night on the smoke-proof structure that was hastily erected yesterday afternoon by the steamship company to aid the fumigation of Oriental freight during the epidemic. It was no fault of Contractor Harrison, who superintended the job. For, though apparently every chink and cranny had been filled and every cleat well caulked, when the electric light was turned on the rays shone through under the eaves where the corrugated iron roofing met the rafters. The force of carpenters was turned on again, and before many hours the improvised warehouse, stretching nearly 200 feet on a line parallel with the wharf front and extending to its edge within a few feet was made proof against the escape of any of the fumes from the fumigating plant. Eighteen hundred tons of sake, soy, silks, curios, bambooware, sam shoo curios and stuffs from Asiatic ports off the Alcoa will feel the force of the germ-killing sulphur smoke today. It will be almost a dangerous thing even to open the big sliding doors when the fumigation is accomplished. Volumes of dense white smoke will pour out in stifling clouds. "I remember the case of a dog," said Inspector Reynolds, "who survived a fumigation while locked in a room in this city some years ago. In spite of the heat and smell the animal, by keeping its nose close to the floor, had managed to secure enough pure air to live; but he was almost dead, and it was some days before he was able to walk." If the Hongkong Maru, which is due this morning, arrives in time for the fumigation there will be in the neighborhood of 600 more tons of freight, which will be added to the lot off the Alcoa. The bark R. P. Rithet, with general cargo from San Francisco, and the lumber-laden barkentine Kikikita were arrivals in the afternoon. The coal-laden ship Jabez Howes was towed in during the morning from the offing. The Rithet has made a good passage from the Coast and has on board a big load of staples, which fully relieves the local market. An American four-masted schooner was sighted off Diamond Head towards evening, but sailed off to leeward before her name could be distinguished. She will be off the harbor this morning.

The Alcoa Sails.

The big freighter Alcoa sailed for San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The waterfront of the Bay City has been looking for the Leviathan for some months past and is all full, according to published accounts, of conjectures as to her shape and size. They will now be satisfied, but not until they come to see the thousands upon thousands of tons of freight that is taken from the monster steamer's hold will they realize what a large ocean carrier such as is frequent upon the Atlantic ocean can take as a load. The 2,200 tons of freight taken off the Alcoa at this port takes up a large portion of Pacific Mail wharf, the space occupied usually by the coal pile makai of that dock's entrance, and some of the stalls of the public market across the esplanade.

Mariposa's Passengers.

The Mariposa, due from San Francisco next Wednesday enroute to the Colonies, will probably be in on time under her new commander, Captain H. C. Houdlette, whose many friends in this port hope that the health regulations by that time will permit the Mariposa's docking and all the through as well as local passengers coming ashore. Owing to the rush for freight for Australia, the Mariposa's cargo for Honolulu will doubtless be small. The following passengers were booked at the agency in San Francisco up to the 21st inst.: W. M. Bird, wife and child, Mrs. P. L. Weaver, Miss K. M. Graydon, Mrs. K. W. Edgar, Mrs. W. J. Lillibridge, Byron Jackson and wife, Mrs. M. H. Lyman, L. C. Howland, J. E. Miller and wife, O. Schmidt, M. E. Saylor, Miss S. E. Kelley, C. P. Boughman and wife, Mrs. T. L. Henderson, W. S. Dowling and wife, C. W. Dickey and wife, Mrs. E. O. Rieser, J. H. Love, F. Perotika, C. E. Dadds, J. R. Dadds, L. H. Miller, W. D. Burnham, J. C. May, J. H. Wilson, G. H. Umbson, O. G. Beardslee, W. A. Johnston, Mrs. M. J. Carroll, H. H. Clark.

NOTES.

The center channel buoy will be replaced today.

The transport Grant sailed for Yokohama on last Thursday morning, and not Manila. She will coal at Nagasaki and then continue her voyage.

One of the passengers by the R. P. Rithet yesterday was Captain Friis, well known in the Pacific trade. He will probably make his home here for the time.

The Mauna Loa, from Kona and Kau ports with sugar and island produce, is anchored at the Ewa end of Naval Row, where she remains under health regulations until her sailing-time, which will probably be Wednesday of next week. All the freight was brought ashore by the steamer James Makee, which will be used as a lighter by the steamship company during the epidemic. All the officers and crew of the Mauna Loa will remain on board during her stay in port.

Where We are Curio.

Ident has just received a copy of the Commercial Advertiser, Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands. It contains sixteen pages of readable matter, and enterprise and progress is displayed throughout the sheet. The paper was sent by our friend, Mr. Edward H. Freund, who is on his way to the Philippines on the transport City of Sydney. He is with the Forty-sixth Regiment, U. S. I.—Cleveland (O.) Trident.

Weak Children

How sad it is to see weak children—boys and girls who are pale and thin. They cannot enjoy the sports of childhood, neither are they able to profit by school life. They are indeed to be pitied. But there is hope for them.

Scott's Emulsion has helped such children for over a quarter of a century. Your doctor will tell you it is both food and medicine to them. They begin to pick up at once under its use. Their color improves, the flesh becomes more firm, the weight increases and all the full life and vigor of childhood returns again.

At all druggists; see and try it. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
